Bio

If you've ever wondered aloud whether you were the only person on Earth who wasn't crazy, comedian Mike Berlon can relate. Even though Mike is a laidback guy who just wants to hang out, have a few drinks and avoid direct sunlight so his pale Irish skin won't burn to a crisp, his friends and family constantly drive him up the wall with their quirky behavior. Mike's sarcastic wit and his ability to be a voice of sanity in a world gone off the tracks have taken him to the finals of the "Funniest Person in Cincinnati" contest on numerous occasions. Inspired by respected funny men like Jim Gaffigan, Brian Regan and Mitch Hedberg, all of whom tackle real-life issues without profanity, Mike creates clean, thoughtful comedy that is relatable to all audiences and is a perfect fit for college campuses. Whether he's riffing on family struggles, the pressures of being in a relationship, or discussing various ways to get banned from Chuck E. Cheese, Mike Berlon's superior writing and nice guy appeal have finally given a voice to downtrodden redheads everywhere.
